

Short speech about my city model.

Greetings for everyone, my name is _____ and this is my city model.

My city model is called _____ and there are a lot of human rights, for example: I go to school because I have the right to education, If I feel sick I go to the hospital because I have the right to health, I live with my parents in a house because I have the right to housing and an adequate shelter.

Also there are a lot different things in my model:
